Critical Acclaim for Amavi Cellars' 2004 Cabernet Sauvignon

September 2007

90 Points

Integrated aromas of dried cherry, mixed berries and pencil shavings. Pleasing flavors of blackberry, licorice, redwood and leather.

June 2007

90 Points

Aims for a deft balance and achieves a lithe texture, with appealing currant and blueberry fruit, shaded with cedar and nutmeg. Not a big wine, but expressive, lingering effortlessly against refined tannins.

89 Points

A big, dense cabernet, this needs air to draw out its scents of fresh gingerbread and cassis. Its dark currant and blackberry flavors are fresh and lively.

May/June 2007

Highly Recommended

Toasty aromas of lush red fruits and complex notes of brown spices and dusty earth. Ripe, round, and juicy flavors of black currant and cassis fruit, cinnamon and anise spice, and earth and dried tarragon notes. Flavors are sumptuous. Smooth tannins. Good value.

89 Points

A substantial wine, well-balanced and showing a good mix of dark, acid-driven fruits, smoke and graphite. There are some light hints of mushroom and leaf, a good display of clear varietal character. I could drink this wine all night long.... It's not a big wine but quite approachable.
